

Valour

As CEO and founder of the Julian Burton Burns Trust, I have experienced so much generosity and have witnessed the valiant efforts of so many people throughout our burn prevention, care and research programs.

Burn injury is one of the top three causes of accidental death of children under five years of age and one of the three most common injuries suffered by Australians each year. The funds raised are so crucial to our programs and to the people who demonstrate so much valour, so saving on operational costs is vital to our bottom-line.

Together, with the team at Voiteck, we implemented a more cost effective solution to our telephone and communications needs. They impressed us with their 'can do' attitude and we are now seeing the savings.

It's a big V for me!
